

A Suspicious Suggestion.
Mr. Roosevelt being quoted as having expressed a desire to get a white rhinoceros, the New York Sun tries to expose his ambition by telling him that the black rhinoceros is by far the more lively, savage and dangerous, quoting standard authorities on African animal life in illustration of the beast's deadly character. One famous hunter, Charles J. Anderson, hunting the black rhinoceros on horseback, lost his horse, which was sore through and through and impaled on the horn of the animal. Would the Sun like to see Mr. Roosevelt in that position?—Waterbury American.

"It is true," began the aged suitor, "that I'm considerably older than you. But a man is as young as he feels, you know, and"—"Oh," interrupted the maiden, "that doesn't matter. What I want to know is if you are as rich as you look."—London News.

WORK AT ASHLAND COLLEGE

President Fenenga Tells of the Opportunities at His Wisconsin School Especially for Refugees from Poland, Russia and Finland.

The story of the field and the work of Northland college at Ashland, Wisconsin, was impressively told Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. meeting by President M. J. Fenenga of the college, who spoke with conviction of the great opportunities for his college among the "stumplands" of northern Wisconsin, where it is located. He was introduced by President A. A. Browning of the Y. M. C. A., after the meeting had been opened by a song service conducted by Physical Director George P. Beckham, and prayer had been offered by Dr. L. L. West. President Fenenga stated that his college was located on the northern shore of the United States and at the tip of Lake Superior, a county that once had supported immense pine forests, now cleared off, and being occupied by the defeated peasantry of Poland, Russia and Finland, the hunted races of Russia. Because Russia denies that they are political criminals, our country is honeycombed with a Russian spy system, these men, he said, are sought out even here in the bush, and their leaders, who deserved to class with the Patrick Henrys, Paul Reveres, and Adamses of American history, are dragged back to Russian punishment.

HAVING A CLOSE FINISH, IN POOL TOURNAMENT

Three Players at Sodality Are Within a Point of Each Other and Have Two Games to Play Apiece.

The pool tournament at St. Joseph's Sodality is having a neck and neck finish with three players in the running. The final honors lie between W. J. Leahy, Daniel Mullin and J. Boylan, who stand in the order given at the present time. Mullin is one point behind Leahy, and Boylan one point behind Mullin. Each player has two games to play. Leahy must play John Moore two games, Mullin must meet Murtha for the same number of games, and Boylan has two games with William McGuinness. The scores are as follows:

GETTING READY TO HARVEST HIS ICE CROP.
John H. Ford Has Cleared the Two Ponds of Snow and May Mark This Morning—Ice About Eight Inches Thick.

If the present cold snap holds on for a day or two more the ice harvest will be in full swing in this section, it is believed. On Sunday John H. Ford started the preliminary work by clearing off the snow from both his ponds. His horses are all shod and ready, and as soon as marked or when the pond is opened by cutting it will begin to thicken, as the cold can then penetrate better. No one knows better than the ice men that getting a crop of ice is like playing a lottery. Many times they would like to wait to get the ice an inch or two thicker, but fear to let a warm rain should come and they would lose it all.

Y. P. C. U. Officers in Charge.
At the morning service on Sunday at the Universalist church, the officers of the Young People's Christian Union were in charge. The president, Miss Bessie Smith, conducted the responsive reading, the hymns were a lesson, while the hymn was announced and read by the secretary, Miss Washburn. A sermon of special appropriateness was preached by the pastor, Rev. Joseph F. Cobb, upon ideals for the Christian life.

TORRINGTON BOY
Given Entire Estate by Man to Whom He Showed Kindness.

A Torrington correspondent writes: For more than a year past Louis Defilbes, a former well known resident of Torrington, has been engaged as a tool maker in the employ of the Corbin Lock company, New Britain. He formed a friendship with a French fellow, Joe Williams, another workman. Williams was 56 years of age, a bachelor, and had made good money for years. He hoped soon to return to his native land and live in retirement on his wealth. He was taken sick and went to the hospital. Grinders' consumption carried him off within three weeks. When he was on his dying bed he signed over to the Torrington boy all his belongings, including the money he had in the bank. Defilbes had been good to Williams during his illness and had previously enjoyed a close friendship. Williams hasn't a relative in this country and it had been many years since he had received any word from a brother and sister who were in France, both of whom were his seniors by some years. Mr. Defilbes returned to New Britain yesterday after having spent a few days at his home on Main street. Williams was buried in New Britain on Saturday last. The Torrington boy will make an effort to locate the two relatives and the event of his failure to learn their whereabouts will have a small fortune for himself in return for the kindness he had extended Williams during the year's acquaintanceship between the two.

NEW LONDON COUNTY BOARD OF THE A. O. H.
Special Meeting Held Here With Seven Divisions Represented.

A special meeting of the New London county board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held in this city in Hibernian hall on Sunday afternoon, at the call of the county president, James J. Sullivan, of New London. All the seven divisions of the county, except Jewett City, were represented. President Sullivan gave a report of the membership standing in the county, saying that it was now about 700, and he urged increased endeavors to gain new members in the coming months. All the delegates were instructed to present this matter before their divisions so that the county president might hear of membership gains all along the line. A report was received of the plan of literary exercises at the meetings which has been inaugurated in division No. 2 of this city and which received the endorsement of the president and the meeting voted to recommend all the divisions to put the same plan into effect. A number of other matters for the welfare of the order were talked over and the meeting adjourned about 4:30 o'clock after a session of an hour and a half.

Those present were President Sullivan, Vice President J. Finnegan of this city, Secretary C. H. Garity of Stonington, Treasurer D. J. Moran of this city, Cornelius Donohue of Stonington, George H. Hackett of Tataville division, Dennis J. Ford of New London division No. 2, President M. J. Dwyer of Norwich division No. 1 and President Frank J. Murtha of Norwich division No. 2.

SUPERINTENDENT COWAN
Presented Gold Fountain Pen by First Baptist Sunday School.

After the opening exercises of the First Baptist Bible school, Sunday, Rev. William T. Flayher in behalf of the school presented a gold fountain pen to Superintendent Walter M. Cowan, a handsome gold mounted pen.

Rev. Mr. Flayher said not as payment was the gift given, but as an appreciation of his untiring interest in and work for the advancement of the school during the seven years he was superintendent. Mr. Cowan spoke of the pleasant relationship always existing between him and the school, and thanked them for the gift which expressed so much to him.

BALTIMORE

Funeral of Mrs. Eliza Ann Walker Largely Attended on Sunday Afternoon—Local Notes.

Mrs. Eliza Ann Walker, who died Thursday, March 25, 1881. She was a daughter of the late ex-Admiral John Heyn, J. P. of Moseley, and came with her family to this country eleven years ago, settling in Adams, Mass., where she lived eight years. They came to Baltimore three years ago. The deceased had been in failing health for some time; the past summer she and Mr. Walker took a trip to England, hoping that she might be benefited by the change. She did not seem to gain in health and returned home and since her husband has been constantly under the doctor's care. She took to her bed the day after Christmas and gradually grew worse until the end came Jan. 28. She leaves her husband and four children; also a sister in Whitinsville, Mass., and a brother and sister in Moseley, England. Another sister died suddenly on Dec. 13 and another last January.

Her funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her home on Depot Hill. Large numbers of friends and relatives and friends from Whitinsville, Mass., Adams, Mass., Portchester, N. Y., New Bedford, Haverhill, and Worcester, Mass., Rev. C. T. Hatch, pastor of the Adams church, conducted the services. The beautiful floral forms included a pillow marked "Virtue" from her husband; large wreath of roses, carnations and galaxia leaves from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dale, Mrs. J. W. Dale and Mr. and Mrs. John Henry, great-grandchildren and calla lilies from Mr. and Mrs. Frank White; crescent of roses and carnations, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Archer; "Rose Miss Annie Anderson" large spray of calla lilies, Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webster; spray of carnations, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hollinsworth; worth and family; hyacinths and carnations, Mr. and Mrs. George Wood; roses, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Field; white carnations, Sumner, Leaven and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lawton; hyacinths, Mr. and Mrs. Mat Bailey; carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon; hyacinths and carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler; carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford and sisters; carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Hinchcliff. The bearers were William Crockett, Thomas Webster, John W. Lee, Matthew Bailey, George Wood and William Andrews. Burial was in Franklin cemetery.

Stolen During Trips—Device Tried to Prevent Theft.
Coal dealers and representatives of manufacturing concerns in New Haven who have coal shipped by the boat-rail went down to Mr. Spier's dock on Hillside avenue the other day to inspect a new method of sealing hatches of coal barges so as to prevent the theft of coal while en route. The plan was the idea of Owen McWilliams of the Blue Line Towing company of New York.

Stolen During Trips—Device Tried to Prevent Theft.
The coal dealers have been complaining that their cargoes have been short 10 or 15 tons. The dealers have been told that the coal is stolen by pirates who boarded the barges and stole the coal. The coal is stolen by pirates who boarded the barges and stole the coal. The coal is stolen by pirates who boarded the barges and stole the coal.

THE CRUELTY OF CHARITY.
A poor woman of Chicago, the mother of three children, was born to quadruplets. She had no means. Her husband deserted her three months before the four babies were born. So she was left with the four babies and exhibited herself and her four babies for money. Starving is an inconvenient thing.

The authorities stopped her. Some how the tender morals of society, which felt no compunction at her poverty, were scandalized by the exhibition of her four babies. They were taken away from her and she was left with a dirty bed in which the seven little Ormsbys slept. In the oven four plump kittens were housed, and chickens roosted on the rickety chairs.

Society, in the form of the Chicago juvenile court, drew up its immaculate skirts. This would never do! There were "homes" and "Industrial Schools" where these wretched human-ity would be so much better off.

The morals of the babies were not looked after. Johnnie, aged 3, wiped the dirt from his nose and said to the policeman, "You let my ma alone, go down you!"

So the seven were taken away from Mrs. Ormsby. They were taken away and span institutions where their mothers may be looked after, and Mrs. Ormsby went back to her hotel to find the room and bed with no dirty little hands to fold hers, to hear the kittens mew disconsolately, to comfort herself with the chickens, to look over into the dirty bed once all too populous and to wonder what she had done to deserve losing her children.

"Can't you leave me just one?" she sobbed. But society—the uncomfortable and well fed and well clothed society which is all powerful with courts and institutions—coldly said no.

Is it necessary for charity to be so cruel? Is the best institution as good for babies as the worst mother who loves her children? Could not Chicago find some way to get rid of the dirt and squalor without tearing a mother from her little ones?

Shelley speaks in one of his poems of the tears of charity which turned into millions as they fell and crucified the poor. Mrs. Ormsby may not read Shelley, but don't you suppose she would understand that poem?—Milwaukee Journal.

Not All Shylacks.
Every now and then the idea that all Hebrews are born with the instincts of a Shylack gets a severe reverse. In Kansas City there is a hard working organization, the Gentile Chasmodon, which has for its sole object the loaning of money to the unfortunate without either security or interest. Last year it loaned over $10,000 in small amounts. During its history the losses from non-payment by borrowers have been less than 1 per cent.

NAMED BY THE PEOPLE

True and Full of Human Interest

Half a century ago, Rev. Fr. John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., through overwork and exposure, became seriously run down. A cold and stubborn cough and lung trouble threatened his life. An eminent specialist gave Father John, as he was fondly called, a prescription to cure the cold and remove the lung trouble, as well as to build up and strengthen the body or poisonous drugs. Read guarantee which follows:

$25,000.00

As a guarantee that the story of Father John's Medicine is absolutely true, the sum of $25,000 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown otherwise.

Like a Fairy Story.
Some persons seem to have opened more eyes than others, they see with such force and distinctness; their vision penetrates the tangle and obscurity where the fathers fall like a spent or impotent bullet. How many eyes did Gilbert White open? How many did Henry Thoreau? How many did Audubon? How many does the hunter, matching his sight against the keen and alert sense of a deer or a moose, or fox, or a wolf? Not outward eyes, but inward. We open another eye when we see beyond the first general feature or outlines of things—when we grasp the special details and characteristic markings that this mask covers. Science confers new powers of vision. Whenever you have learned to discriminate the birds, or the plants, or the geological features of a country, it is as if new and keener eyes were added.—John Burroughs.

Like a Fairy Story.
They were going to the theater. He had reached home at 6:30 o'clock, and an hour later was ready to start. There was just time to reach the playhouse by eight. She had had nothing to do all afternoon except to dress, yet it was 8:15 when she came from her room with her hat and coat on.

"I'm afraid we shall be late," she said.

"You look so lovely," he replied, kissing her, "that it would have been worth waiting another hour for you."

No, they were not bride and bridegroom. They had been married ten years. But what is the use of telling you any more? As you can see by this sample, you wouldn't believe it, anyway.

CATARH CURED
No Cure, No Pay, is a Most Generous Offer.

To get an antiseptic strong enough to kill catarrh germs and not destroy the tissues of the membrane at the same time, has been a problem which was never solved until the discovery of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mey).

Hyomei is prepared from eucalyptus, the most powerful yet healing antiseptic known. It breathes it through the inflamed and diseased and germinous membrane four or five times a day, and in a few days the germs will disappear.

The inflamed condition will go, too, and the snuffing, hawking and offensive breath, and the discharge of mucus and crusts in the nose will cease. Then why should any catarrh sufferer hesitate, when The Lee & Osgood Co. have such faith in Hyomei that they offer to return your money if after a fair trial Hyomei does not cure catarrh?

A complete Hyomei outfit, including the inhaler, costs $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, cost but 50c. Hyomei also cures asthma, croup, sore throat, coughs, colds or grip.
